Fenton-based medical device manufacturer relaunches as Domico Med-Device with commitment to innovations for patient care

Fenton, MI -- August 13, 2018 – Domico Med-Device is a Fenton, Michigan-based solutions provider to the medical device industry. Although the name is new, the company and its innovations have been a mainstay in the industry for decades. Originally known and founded in 1974 as Contour Fabricators, Inc. and more recently known as CFI Medical Solutions, the company was later purchased by TIDI® Products and on June 1 of this year, officially relaunched under new ownership as Domico Med-Device.

Domico Med-Device specializes in manufacturing equipment, hardware accessories and patient comfort components for applications such as diagnostic imaging, cardiac and vascular interventions and surgery. Products such as carbon fiber and foam positioning aids allow providers to safely position patients or capture critical diagnostic images, which ultimately determine the most efficient course of treatment. Solutions and services include design and engineering, carbon fiber molding, compression forming, assembly, foam fabrication and die cutting, prototype and tooling design and build.

“When we first started out as CFI, we worked to grow our technology portfolio with products like C-Armor®, Sterile-Z® and Zero-Gravity™; however, we are now primarily focused on manufacturing equipment, hardware, accessories and patient comfort,” said Domico Med-Device President Michael Czop. “We made a name for ourselves with OEMs and within the clinical community, and as the business evolved we learned and grew along with it. This year, when presented with the chance to relaunch independently, our team knew it was time to write the next phase of our success story.”

Czop has been with the business since 1996 and when the opportunity arose to form Domico Med-Device, he seized it. Now with him at the helm, along with the core group of dedicated professionals and highly-skilled technical experts who make up the team, Czop says they are poised to transform the future of patient care.

“Our talented, hard-working industry and trade experts are like family and they bring a level of passion and commitment to serve our customers,” Czop states. “We are driven by a focus on improving patient care, together.”

The company will remain at its existing location at 14241 N. Fenton Road in Fenton, Michigan.
